

How states are innovating to help solve food insecurity

Decades of food insecurity prove that a problem of this scope and complexity requires new, more strategic approaches to accelerate change, close gaps and achieve better health outcomes.

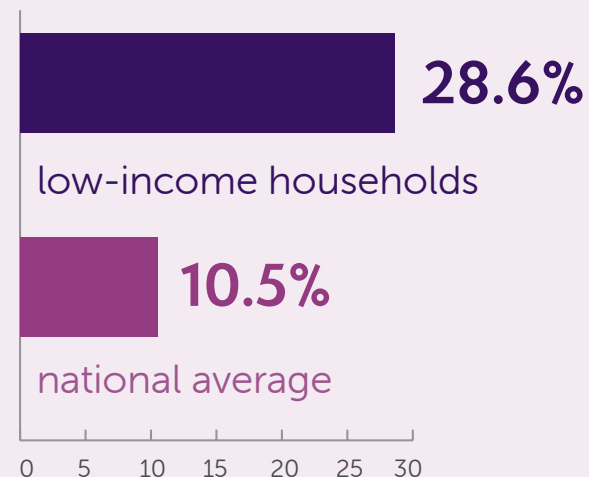

of Black individuals lived in food insecure households in 2021

1 IN 6 HISPANIC INDIVIDUALS experienced food insecurity in 2021

FOOD INSECURITY in 2020

5.5M

SENIORS experienced food insecurity in 2021

Each food-insecure adult spends

$1,834 MORE

on annual health care expenses compared to those who are food secure

STATES ARE BREAKING DOWN BARRIERS TO INNOVATION

Building on a foundation of federal programs, states are implementing new approaches to solving food insecurity by breaking down barriers to legacy programs and creating new partnerships.

Examples include:

- In Lieu of Services
- 1115 Demonstrations
- Older Americans Act Title III
- Value Added Benefits
- State Hunger Coalitions
- Public-Private Collaborations
- Dual-Eligible Populations

STATE-LEVEL SUCCESSES

Around the nation, states are piloting programs to address food insecurity with positive results, including:

- California
- Georgia
- Iowa
- Kentucky
- New York

Get started in your state.
Mom's Meals can help.

Our team is ready to share our case studies surrounding food and nutrition for populations in need to help you build an effective program.

Tim Conroy
National Vice President
Government and Healthcare Partnerships
tim.conroy@momsmeals.com
470.316.4681

momsmeals.com | 866.716.3257

